Star Trek's William Shatner-- On Course

PAAR AND 'THE KENNEDY WIT'

A flight plan for Star Trek

Star Trek co-star Leonard Nimoy is cast as Mr. Spock, science officer aboard the USS Enterprise which is on an interplanetary exploration mission years in the future. At right is Gene Roddenberry, creator-producer of series.

• Does William Shatner, the sober-looking individual on this week's cover, impress you as the kind of man who could command a cruiser-size space ship exploring the outer galaxies? Well, he'd better, because that's what he is doing each Thursday on NBC in the new series Star Trek, and series producer-creator Gene Roddenberry wants you to believe it is all within the realm of possibility.

"Science-fiction," says Roddenberry, "must be an extrapolation of something possible. Hollywood has turned too much of science-fiction into gimmicks and one-eyed monsters and left audiences confused and corrupted." On the USS Enterprise with its staff and crew of 400, Roddenberry tries to avoid gimmickry, or at least subordinate it to his cast.

For example, instead of resorting to some highly imaginary costumes for his space adventurers, Roddenberry contacted the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and was given sketches of the type clothing to be worn by our own astronauts when they board 10 to 15-men spacecraft for trips to the moon.

Caltech and one of its art designers came up with the out-of-this-world conception of the USS Enterprise, which apparently isn't as far out as the casual viewer might believe.

"I've told our designers not to streamline a table that's not going anywhere or toss in things just for looks. There's a reason for each instrument you see on the USS Enterprise," Roddenberry maintains very seriously.

A big and generally quiet man, Roddenberry has been writing for TV for many years. This is the first time he's ventured into the science-fiction field, although he was an airline pilot before turning to writing, an occupation which one might think would have inspired him to write about space before this.

When Roddenberry came to California he joined the Los Angeles Police Department, first as a traffic cop and later as one of its public relations men. His first brush with TV came when he "moonlighted" as technical adviser to Jack Webb's Dragnet series.

At the same time he had been writing for magazines. While balancing the Roddenberry accounts one evening, Mrs. Roddenberry pointed out to her husband that his income as a cop was $450 per month, and for that particular month his writing had netted him $1,200. "Don't you think it's time you decided which is your profession and which is your hobby?" inquired his wife, and soon after that Roddenberry wound up his six years on the force.

His list of credits in TV mounted steadily after that, and one Roddenberry script for Have Gun, Will Travel won for him an Emmy award for "best western script" in 1959. Prior to Star Trek, his most recent TV project was The Lieutenant, which he produced for the 1963-64 season and which became most notable for exposing Robert (Man From UNCLE) Vaughn to weekly TV.

One of Roddenberry's chief worries about the TV medium is the big thirst sponsors and networks have for action. "They want something happening on that screen all the time, and they are not particular what it is, as long as it moves," he says sadly.

Humor from Jack Paar, Dean Martin

At right Jack Paar, wearing many hats for the ABC Stage 67 offering, "The Kennedy Wit," carefully and assiduously assembles his tribute to the wit and humor of the late President John F. Kennedy. Below, would you believe Phil Harris is drinking tea with Dean Martin on NBC?

● This is a week for laughter. On his regular weekly musical bash, Dean Martin will be joined by Phil Harris, George Gobel and Vikki Carr, providing songs and laughter for everybody. And TV's veteran of humor, Jack Paar, returns to the tube with "The Kennedy Wit," a segment of the ABC Stage 67 series of specials. The tribute to the wit and humor of the late President John F. Kennedy is virtually a one-man creation in which Paar serves as the producer, researcher, reporter and host. Paar, who believes Stage 67 is TV's comeback to the intelligent viewer, says "I have my nose in everything, my finger in every pie, and my ear to the ground, which is a pretty ridiculous sight. But when it's over, I can take full credit or full blame." Ladies and gentlemen, prepare your verdict, please.

Hope Still Learning

"I'M STILL learning," said Bob Hope. "In this business, if you're after longevity, you forget whatever fame or acclaim you've won and you continue to observe and study the changes, no matter how subtle, in your line of work."

If it sounds strange hearing that Bob Hope, of all people, still believes he has "much to learn," you have only to observe Hope and realize he's in earnest. The star of NBC Television Network's "Bob Hope Presents the Chrysler Theater," and the recipient of as many awards as have been created, studies the work of new comics and trends in comedy as he continuously analyzes his own work.

"Like anyone else, I have lapses," says Hope. "Often, things I think are side-splitting have turned out dull. Comedy 'shtiks' I thought hilarious, when viewed later, made me think . . 'how could I have done this?' For example: In 'I'll Take Sweden,' a recent film, I added a nudist scene that I thought would work. Not only didn't it work but some people were outraged, finding it offensive."

Angling Bing Catches Fans

COCKERMOUTH, England — Bing Crosby, one of show business' all time greats, and Joe Brooks, one of the world's top fishermen, spent a frustrating weekend here watching themselves fish on film.

They were supposed to be here to fish in person. Cockermouth is where the ABC-TV series, "The American Sportsman," is filming a color segment devoted to the art of Atlantic salmon fishing.

But Crosby and Brooks haven't fished since the rains fell on Cockermouth, washing out the last scheduled film shooting. Brooks, who has written eight books on fishing, has been here waiting for the near-flood conditions to ebb and Crosby, who knows enough about fishing to have written a few books of his own, has been visiting friends in Sussex since Sept. 5.

He and his wife, Kathy, returned to Cockermouth for what should have been the last day of shooting.

"It seems I'm spending half my time watching the weather lately," said the man who used to sing about "Blue Skies."

"I haven't been over-active in movies or television the last few years, so I've been playing a lot of golf and doing a lot of fishing—and hoping for good weather."

Bing, whose TV and movie appearances have been selectively spaced these days, has been gratified by the reception accorded him by British fans.

Movie Man Tackles TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why did a successful movie director like Richard Quine ("The World of Suzie Wong," "Sex and the Single Girl") become a television producer?

"Jean Arthur," he answers simply. "All they did was drop that name in front of me, and I fell to my knees. I had never known anybody that didn't love her on the screen, and I was a longtime fan myself.

"Also, television presented a challenge. Like a lot of people, I have been stupified by what I saw on the home screen. I felt compelled to see if I could do any better."

The results on "The Jean Arthur Show" are not in yet. The reviews are what you might call mixed, some critics applauding the actress's return, some reporting that the vehicle was not up to her talents.

"I can understand how some of them felt; if I had been merely watching the show at home I might have been of the same opinion," said Quine. "But they were comparing her with the Jean Arthur who appeared opposite Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart and Ronald Colman.

"But our show isn't 'Mr. Deeds Goes to Town' or 'More the Merrier.' It's a half-hour show for television."

Quine is a former MGM juvenile who still looks youthful in his mid-40s despite a recession of his blond locks. He retains a boyish enthusiasm for his work.

Search For Roof

To find just the right rooftop for use as the "home" location for ABC-TV's "Love on a Rooftop," location manager Bill Schneider, with the aid of a chauffeur who knew the town, searched San Francisco's streets for six days before he found just the right roof, with just the right view of city and bay.

The rooftop which is an integral element in the romantic comedy series, starring Judy Carne and Pete Deuel as young people who meet, marry and set up housekeeping in a closet-sized apartment, is located atop Russian Hill in the City by the Golden Gate.

Curiosity Spans The Wall

During a recent filming in Berlin of ABC-TV's "The Man Who Never Was," the Russians proved that curiosity is universal.

The segment was being filmed on the West side of the infamous Berlin wall at night.

Gradually searchlights from the Eastern sector began flashing on, one by one, until the entire scene was flooded with lights manned by Russian guards.

After the Director adjusted for the unexpected help with his lighting, stars Robert Lansing and Dana Wynter and the other members of the cast began their scenes under the best possible of "method-acting" conditions.

How many slender women REDUCE size of HIPS without losing weight.

• Are you slender, yet bothered by "hippy" hips? You don't want to lose weight. But you do want to reduce the size of your hips...or waistline...or abdomen.

• NOT WEIGHT LOSS!

• These troublesome figure areas are often the result of lax muscles. When these muscles are exercised, they "hold-you-in" more, thus reducing the size of the area. And that's how Relax-A-cizor works. It tones and exercises the muscles that "hold-in" your hips, waist, abdomen and thighs—but WITHOUT WORK! You use it at home...while you REST!

• COMPLETELY DIFFERENT! Relax-A-cizor is completely different. It is NOT a couch. Not a bicycle. No heat. No vibration or massage. Delightfully different!

• IT'S A FACT! Many women lack good muscle tone because they don't get enough exercise. Relax-A-cizor gives effortless, concentrated exercise to such figure areas as hips, waistlines, thighs and abdomens. Regular use causes these areas to reduce in size measurably to the extent these muscles lack tone because of insufficient exercise. And the less the muscle tone, the greater the degree of size reduction.

This Week on KERA-TV, Channel 13

CHANNEL 13 invites you to be front-row center Wednesday at 8 p.m. when the curtain will rise on Maxim Gorky's The Lower Depths. This is perhaps the best known of Gorky's plays and one that is a powerful account of desperate hunger, poverty and misery in the bottom level of society in Czarist Russia at the turn of the century. First performed on December 31, 1902 at the Moscow Art Theater this play prophesied the Bolshevik Revolution and remained pertinent for generations that followed the Revolution.

Monday at 8 p.m. NET Journal premieres with the first program "Schizophrenia: The Shattered Mirror." This is a documentary dealing with a mental disease that little is known of its causes and cures. An insight into what is being done by some psychiatrists and individuals to help people suffering from schizophrenia.

Regional Report Election '66 will make a study of the off-year elections with special emphasis on issues. California will discuss the Brown-Reagan political situations; Oregon, the Viet Nam issue; Illinois, the age-versus youth contest. This inside look at these problems will be seen Friday at 8 p.m.

"Elementary Particles" will be the subject Tuesday at 8 p.m. when Experiment in Progress uncovers some of the reasons physicists have had a difficult time in gaining an understanding or adequate knowledge of the nucleus of the atom. One person, Nathan Seeman, is a physicist determined to add significant information to the work being done in physical labs throughout the world. This is the third program in the series designed to show viewers work being carried on by scientists engaged in experiments and the actual activities of basic research in which they are involved.

Great Composers features an all Schubert program Thursday at 8 p.m. Henry Harris plays favorite selections and gives a bit of the musical history connected with this "great composer." One of the selections will be "Impromptu in F Minor."

"Keys to the Mysteries" a dramatic story of the decipherment of cuneiform and hieroglyphic. Dr. Frank Baxter discusses the great scholars Grotefend, Rawlinson, and Champollion. An unusual experiment is made by Dr. Baxter as he traces, through drawings and charts, the detective work that led to the decipherment of ancient writing. All of this is in further study of The Written Word on KERA-TV Thursday at 9 p.m.

Kayo by Horse

Guest star Linda Lorimer was riding Old Fooler, the devilish horse on ABC-TV's "The Rounders," this week for an episode of the modern cowboy comedy when the horse slipped on the grass and they banged heads.

Old Fooler was fine after the accident, but Linda was knocked out for a few minutes and had to finish the week's shooting with a lump on her head.

OUR PRESENT CUSTOMERS ARE TELLING THEIR FRIENDS

Those Funny Adults

EVERY TELEVISION star has a favorite story about fans, their questions and their innocent and often ego-deflating comments.

Some have even worked out gentle verbal defenses.

Eva Gabor, co-star of "Green Acres," when a fan asks that question no gentleman ever asks a lady, "How old are you?" replies sweetly, "I'm fine, thanks, how are you?"

Lucille Ball, star of "The Lucy Show," answers that question, "I'm any age I want to be."

But for many of the things fans say to or about the stars, there is no suitable reply. Jean Arthur, star of "The Jean Arthur Show," couldn't think of one when a woman stopped her on the street, shook her hand warmly and announced, "You're one of my greatest fans."

And Imogene Coca of "It's About Time" was stopped by another who asked, "Didn't you used to be Imogene Coca?"

Andy Griffith, star of "The Andy Griffith Show," overheard a woman ask, "Is Andy Griffith his real name?" Her husband replied, "Is Andy Griffith whose real name?"

Sebastian Cabot, co-star of "Family Affair," heard a wife whisper to her husband, "What is Sebastian's last name?" and her husband whispered back, "Sebastian who?"

A little boy, seeing Jim Arness, star of "Gunsmoke," for the first time, stood awestruck for a few moments and then walked up to him and asked in amazement, "Do you know who you are?"

What Do They Mean?

First reaction of friends of blonde Sheila MacRae was "Wow!" when they saw her with her tresses colored red for her role as Alice Kramden in "The Honeymooners" on "The Jackie Gleason Show," Saturdays on the CBS Television Network. What bothers Miss MacRae is that she has been unable to arrive at a definition of what they mean by "Wow!"

Tycoon in Boots

DALE ROBERTSON, the "cowboy's cowboy," was sitting behind a thick, polished desk in an elegantly furnished office wearing a tailor-made business suit, and a white shirt and tie. But the collar was unbuttoned and the tie loosened. He blamed it on the heat.

"Time was," he sighed, "when my office was any place I ran into people. Things have changed."

It was almost as if he were lamenting his long string of successful business ventures.

The conversation was interrupted by a chic secretary, who served coffee, and a long-distance call from Oklahoma, the latter a status report on one of the prize quarter horses he raises.

"I'm mighty glad to be back at work," he continued. "I get a little testy when I don't have a lot of irons in the fire."

into building a railroad through the western wilderness.

He was alluding to his new television series, "Iron Horse." In the series, Dale stars as Ben Calhoun—an adventurer who turns his brains and brawn

Some Roads Are Rough

By LARRY THOMAS
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD—No one knows better than Don Francks that the road to stardom is a rough one.

One year ago, Francks was starring in a $600,000 Broadway musical. Two weeks later, a Greenwich Village cabaret had claimed him for $10 a night.

Now, the talented actor-writer-singer-musician is starring in CBS' "Jericho," a fast-moving adventure series that may well be the strongest CBS entry this fall.

How has this roller coaster ride in show business affected his life?

After the Broadway blowout of "Kelly," which opened and closed on the same night, Francks found himself back at the bottom of the pile.

"It was a blow, but you have to keep working," he said. "I took the Greenwich Village job and then drifted out here to Hollywood.

"I'd tell them I did 500 television shows in Canada, and they'd say, 'Yes, but what have you done here?' "

Gradually the parts opened up. Francks won bit parts in "The Wild West," and "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." and then came the lead in "Jericho," a series about three undercover men doing work for the Allies during World War II.

"I might have to assume two or three different disguises in the course of any week's episode," Francks said. "That's one reason the series is a challenge.

An Easy Part

After seven full days of rugged shooting on the "Catch A General" episode of ABC-TV's "The Rat Patrol," shooting in Spain, Larry Casey, who plays Pvt. Mark Hitchcock, got a big break from director Lee Katzin and from the script.

Casey played the entire show in a wounded state, either flat on his back on the ground, on a stretcher, on a hospital table or on the bed in an ambulance.

Said Casey, "It was great, after climbing mountains last week. But I think Tarr, Chris and Gary didn't appreciate my soft acting too much. They glared a lot."

New Non-Surgical Face Lift

gives an ageless look, more fascinating than either youth or beauty

Isn't it wonderful to read about getting to look more youthful, and know it can happen to you? Isn't it comforting to be able to realize that you are about to see the last of age-making facial lines for many a long year, if ever again, and that skin dryness will become a total stranger to you from now on? These blessings can now be bestowed upon any woman over 25, for little more than just the asking! Thanks to a recently completed important piece of work done by three dedicated men of science in Wiesbaden, West Germany; men whose reputations and positions are distinguished by ownership of such degrees as MD, PhD. And it was through the combined efforts of these men of science and letters that you may now actually look more youthful again — if you so desire.

The face lift no longer requires the surgeon's scalpel and a period of convalescence in a state of discomfort and anxiety over the outcome. Then there's the high cost. Plastic surgeons are entitled to high fees for their special abilities.

But now the "lift" is accomplished in another and very simple manner. There is no cutting—no stretching the skin—no peeling—nothing more than just a simple and delightful few minutes with yourself each night before retiring for a half dozen or a dozen nights in succession. And instead of "lifting" your face in the surgical sense, you will accomplish much the same effect by actually lifting the age lines out of your face. Day by day you watch the lines around your eyes, over your cheek bones, around your nose and at the corners of your mouth lessen and lessen as they become more difficult to find. This simple nightly routine will keep your face in this new, more youthful appearing state as long as you want to enjoy an ageless look. Discontinue the treatment whenever you wish. Resume it when you see the need to. Succeeding courses will be every bit as effective as the first.

The process is simple and natural. It is based upon re-supplying to the skin the natural ingredient through which the inner cells obtain and retain water-moisture. This ingredient is designated CEF, which means *C*ellular *E*xpansion *F*actor. When spread over the skin's surface, CEF penetrates deeply into the skin's outer layer to the cells below. As it penetrates, each molecule of CEF carries with it a molecule of pure water. It is then the "lift" begins. It is then facial lines on the surface start to plump up from beneath to smooth out to become less and less visible on the surface. CEF is available in the U.S.A. in the form of a non-greasy, lightly scented emulsion labeled 2nd Debut. You can get it in two potencies; 2nd Debut (with CEF 600) for the woman under 45, and 2nd Debut (with CEF 1200) for the older woman. Either will make and keep every woman looking younger than her years. Money-back guarantee.

Channel 8 WFAA-TV at Communications Center Dallas-Ft. Worth

WITH THE WORLD Series beginning this week, Channel 8 is caught up in the annual fever that is known as October Madness.

That also is part of the title of a 30-minute special which WFAA-TV and Dallas Power and Light will present Tuesday night, 7:30 P.M., Oct. 4, as a tribute to the national pastime and the bedlam which comes every October. It's a masterful production from Wolper Productions — "October Madness — The World Series."

In typical Wolper fashion, the documentary traces the background of the World Series and relives some of the most dramatic moments in the colorful history of this annual Fall sports feature.

No attraction can compete with this all-American spectacle for the attention of 100 million fans . . . political campaigning ceases, Wall Street trading lags, office efficiency throughout the nation falters. The DP&L special is filled with all the greatest moments and heroes of the Series from Tinker to Evers to Chance . . . to Babe Ruth pointing into centerfield and slamming a winner homer . . . Don Larsen's first perfect game in World Series history . . . and other nostalgic filmed stories.

OCTOBER MADNESS in baseball is almost like the mad joy which families experience when they use Fishburn's Laundry and Cleaning facilities. Folks wrap up their cares and woes . . . and all their clothes . . . and take them to Fishburn's. We ought to know, we've been fans of Fishburn's in the Casa View area for years. Catch the Fishburn's commercials on the 10:00 P.M. Channel 8 News Sunday nights with Rick Gebhardt.

This is the time of the year when sports dominates the weekend television schedule. However, it is also creeping into our weekday programming. Wednesday nights at 10:30, Channel 8 is presenting "NFL Highlights" which features choice action from the previous Sunday game of the Dallas Cowboys.

As hot as the Cowboys have been, this program promises to be the hit of the season for local sports enthusiasts.

ON THURSDAY NIGHTS, 10:30, Channel 8 is offering the excellent boxing attractions of the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles. "Boxing from the Olympics" offers 90-minutes of ring action, featuring some of the bright newcomers to the fistic world from the West Coast as well as a number of familiar names. To many boxing fans, the return of televised fights has been long overdue. This program should win a lot of ring fans back to the boob tube.

Any good athlete or sports enthusiast knows that if you want to put some spark in your engine, you should get on the Malt-o-Meal mobile. That's what Patty and Jim, the cartoon kids featured in the new TV commercials for Malt-o-Meal, recommend. The commercials relate the story of both regular and chocolate Malt-o-Meal and offer a free in-package premium—a miniature yo-yo.

HEY! DID YOU know that Hamilton Hummer III has returned to the "Mr. Peppermint" show, weekday mornings from 7 to 8:25 A.M.? He flies through the wind, rain and snow just so all the Gumdrops will know what the weather will be each day. Of course, he's been having a few problems with his thermometer. The other day he had the temperature at 110 degrees in our Channel 8 studios.

Another new character who arrived on the Peppermint scene a couple of weeks ago is Awful Jawful. He's the AWFUL agent who is constantly trying to commit mayhem with the G.O.O.D.-N.E.S.S. agents of Mr. Peppermint. Think the kids don't dig such things???? Awful Jawful appeared in the show on a Monday and by Wednesday Peppermint had received 20 pieces of mail from Gumdrops warning him that this guy is no good!

Latest addition to the list of fine sponsors on "Mr. Peppermint" is Burger King, home of the Whopper Burger. As the slogan says, Whopper Burgers are long on quality, short on price. Most any time you can find Jerry Haynes, "Mr. Peppermint," and his family at a Burger King, enjoying the tasty food. Besides prompt, courteous service, Burger Kings are clean, offering quality products at reasonable prices.

Never Forget

Garry Moore says people still recognize him, in spite of his two-year hiatus from television. Moore, who recently premiered his new "The Garry Moore Show" in color on the CBS Television Network, told the "I've Got a Secret" panel and audience during a guest appearance, "Why, just the other day I got into a taxicab and the driver turned to me and said, 'Hello, Mr. Gobel.' "

Colleagues

Gary Raymond, featured on ABC-TV's "The Rat Patrol," now filming in Southern Spain, looks upon the current "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf?" with understandable affection. He performed with Richard Burton in "Look Back In Anger" and portrayed Elizabeth Taylor's brother in "Suddenly Last Summer."

"Batman" is seen in color Wednesday and Thursday nights on ABC-TV.

His Lucky Hat

Art Carney, in his role as sewer worker Ed Norton in "The Jackie Gleason Show" presentations of "The Honeymooners," Saturdays on the CBS Television Network, wears a hat he bought for $5 when he was in high school. He's used it since he originated the role about 15 years ago, and has never had it blocked.

'That' Won Out

Marlo Thomas, who stars as "That Girl" in ABC-TV's new comedy series, discloses that the series was going to be called "Miss Independence" — the family nickname for Marlo when she was small. But after some thought they decided to name it "That Girl," an affectionate family term.

Patterson Wins

A training unit at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, near Chicago, selected Melody Patterson, the blonde, 17-year-old star of ABC-TV's "F Troop," as their beauty queen. The pretty Miss Patterson won out over two other finalists, Elizabeth Taylor and Tina Louise.

Inventory Time in TV Land

By FAIRFAX NISBET

Radio-TV Editor

NOW THAT the new television season has been launched and premiered, it's time to do a little house-cleaning and inventory-taking. In those hectic pre-launch weeks before the final countdown sent the new crop of series into orbit, a hardy group of perennials that we always have with us, the public relations firms and their oh-so-clever personnel, burned plenty of midnight oil thinking up gimmicks and gadgets and ideas to attract attention to their clients' TV wares.

Although the viewing public is the ultimate aim for these would-be attention-getters, TV editors are the middlemen on the receiving end of the items, in fervent hopes of same being reported in the printed page.

While we were engaged in the occupational hazard of getting bloodshot, square-shaped eyeballs in the preview process, said items have piled up considerably.

ITEM: One package of "jerky" courtesy of the new western spoof, "Pistols 'n' Petticoats." "Jerky" for the benefit of the uninitiate, or non-western viewers, is old-fashioned dried beef, which the early-day trailblazers found mighty handy traveling rations. It kept indefinitely and you had to chew so diligently to get any nourishment, you felt as if you had had more. Here at inventory time, our package, anachronistically wrapped in cellophane, is almost depleted. The reason for this is a young colleague who works close by dotes on the stuff. Somehow we have a feeling this boy has the makings of a real pioneer.

Also from the same CBS-TV western series we have a handsomely engraved certificate which proclaims that: "Whereas the Peace-lovin', Law-abidin' Townsmen and Ranchers of this Community have weighed and not found wanting . . . the Meritorious Traits, Sterling Qualities and Not-Too-Blemished Character, Be It Known to all manner of Varmints Hereabouts That . . . " this writer has been named, "Wretched Citizen of the Town of Wretched, Colo., The Greatest Little Old Fun-Frontier for 'Pistols 'n' Petticoats' West of the Mississipi. In Witness Thereof, Signed, Ann Sheridan." And it bears the official gold seal of Wretched, Colo., by gum.

ITEM: One large coffee cup, just about the size Grandma used to fill for Grandpa. The big cup came filled with granulated sugar, and the donor was Jim Nabors, TV's "Gomer Pyle," who wanted to call attention to his "Friends and Nabors" special which will be seen on CBS-TV on Oct. 12. Guest friends will be Andy Griffith, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Marilyn Horne and special guest friend, Shirley Jones.

The thought behind the sugar-filled gift cup is that in the good old days when folks ran out of sugar they took a cup to the house of a neighbor and borrowed a cup of sweetening until they could get to the store. It was the neighborly thing to do.

ITEM: One pass on the Buffalo Pass, Scalplock and Defiance Railroad, courtesy of ABC-TV's "Iron Horse" and its star, Dale Robertson. If we could just get the same treatment from the present-day flying bird companies we would have it made.

ITEM: One card certifying that this writer is qualified for service with the United Network Command for Law Enforcement (U.N.C.L.E.) and may be called for active service with her designated section on 12 hours notice (Y3K7, Hazardous Duty). Also from the U.N.C.L.E. organization, an International Travel Identification Pass.

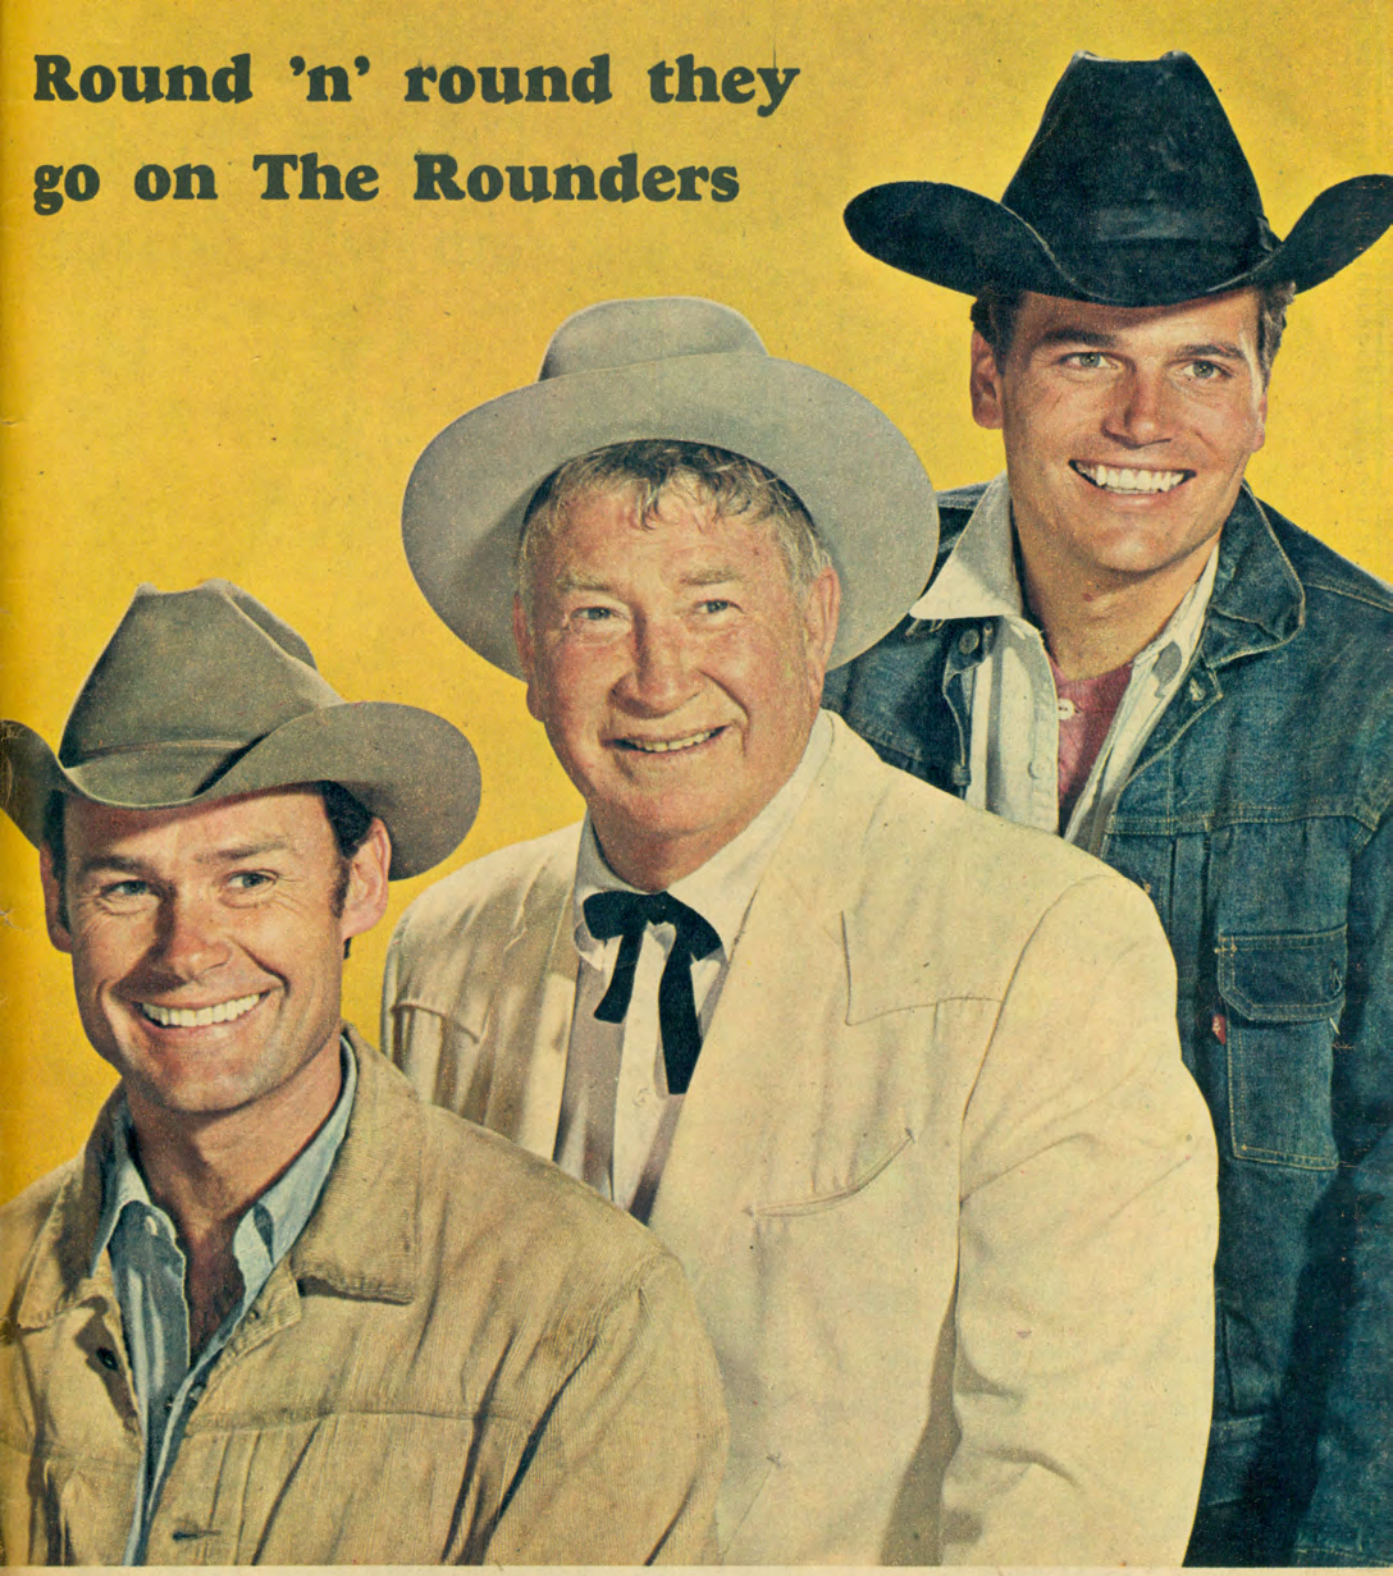
ITEM: One British 10-shilling note from Lucille Ball, who visited London last summer and filmed a special, "Lucy Goes to London," with Anthony Newly as her tour guide. She admitted she acted like a tourist and brought home souvenirs for friends. Now a gal that gives her friends money as a souvenir is a friend indeed.

ITEM: One bottle of Hermes perfume and one bottle of Hermes cologne, both from Paris, France. Gift sent in the name of "Olympus 7-000," the third offering on the new "ABC Stage 67" series. The tie-in was that Donald O'Connor played the Messenger of the Gods, Mercury, sometimes known as Hermes. Maybe somebody figured on generating the sweet smell of success.

ITEM: A bunch of engraved invitation and a corny finale gift guaranteed to pop open the eyes and mouth of the pooped partaker.

It all started with a handsomely engraved missive which said, "Would you believe that 'Get Smart' to celebrate the start of its second season on Sept. 17 is inviting you to a formal dinner at Maxim's in Paris, France. Black tie. Further information as to jet travel and accommodations will be forthcoming." Inside was an elaborate menu with such items as truffles in wine, pressed duck, etc. Several days and no word. Then came the second missive. "Would you believe that the dinner at Maxim's in Paris has been changed to Dinty Moore's in New York. Not formal. The inside menu featured corned beef and cabbage. Next was another engraved communication announcing that "Would you believe that the dinner originally for Maxim's in Paris then moved to Dinty Moore's in New York, has now been changed to Madres y Padres Eats in Tijuana, Mexico, with frijoles and tacos and no tie." Finally came a huge box with the note, "Would you believe the dinners at Maxim's in Paris, France, then Dinty Moore's in New York, then Madres y Padres Eats in Tijuana, Mexico, have been cancelled and instead enclosed momentous memento of the opening of the second season of 'Get Smart' was sent by Don Adams, Barbara Feldon and Ed Platt and Leonard Stern (the show's chintzy producer)." The gift was a huge bag of buttered popcorn —about 25 pounds of it. It's a great season for corn.

Round 'n' round they go on The Rounders



● These three caballeros, Ron Hayes, Chill Wills and Patrick Wayne, are the stars of ABC's contemporary western, The Rounders, screening Tuesdays in color. Now, what do they mean by contemporary western? First of all, in a contemporary western, the bad guys drive pickups and the good guys drive Cadillacs. The only time you see a fast draw is when the bartender delivers a quick draught beer. Shoot-outs have been replaced by cook-outs in the contemporary western and the skies still are not cloudy all day. In The Rounders, Wills plays the owner of a huge Texas ranch (ever see a small one?) who keeps cowpokes Jones and Lewis (Hayes and Wayne) in tow because he has ways of keeping them in his debt. Note: A contemporary western is a half-hour on TV, as opposed to one hour.

Conrad crushes 'em with karate

Arrrggghh! That means Robert Conrad is poised for the attack in a scene for the Wild, Wild West, CBS-TV on Fridays.

Grruummphh! Conrad, at right, applies a savage kick to his unlucky opponent, who should get paid double for doing all this.

• In the old days all you had to know to be a successful actor was your lines. Being handsome helped, too. These days, however, you have to be handsome, know your lines and know karate. No, not Irving Karate, but the fighting style called karate by the ancient Chinese. One karate expert currently on TV is Robert Conrad, the handsome star of Wild, Wild West, who knows his lines. In nearly every episode (Friday nights on CBS) Conrad is asked to crush the villains with savage karate attacks. And if you've ever had an attack of the savage karate, you know how bad that can be. Once in a while, Conrad is captured and defeated momentarily. But his great strength enables him to work his way out. Also, he knows his lines, which is a big help.

Robert Conrad of the Wild, Wild West appears to be in a bit of a spot. Well, it seems as though karate can't solve everything.

Even though the bad fellow pulls a knife on Robert Conrad, quick karate reflexes get him into a scissors hold.
